

Bonus – Terms & Conditions

Deposit Bonus Overview

TenTrade offers deposit bonuses of up to 100%, designed to provide traders with additional tradable equity to enhance their trading capacity. The bonus can be used to support margin and open positions across all financial instruments available on the platform. However, only trades in Forex and Gold are counted towards the calculation of lots traded.

Volume & Withdrawal Conditions

For PROMO and VIP accounts, the bonus becomes withdrawable once a client completes 70 lots (in FX or XAUUSD) for every $100 of bonus received. The volume requirements must be fulfilled within 90 calendar days from the date the bonus is issued. If the requirements are not met within this period, a pro-rata portion of the bonus may be granted based on the volume that was completed. It's important to note that CFD trades involving Stocks, Indices, and Cryptocurrencies do not count toward the volume requirements.

Important Disclaimers and Rights

Regarding disclaimers and rights, TenTrade strictly prohibits any misuse or manipulation of the bonus, including hedging between multiple accounts or across different brokers. Such behavior may lead to the removal of the bonus, cancellation of any related profits, or even account closure. Accounts that use capital in a limited number of trades to quickly double balances, artificially trigger stop-outs, or display other suspicious patterns will be considered in violation of the bonus terms. TenTrade reserves the right to adjust or correct bonus-related calculations, cancel bonuses or profits if abuse is detected, and close accounts found to be exploiting the bonus system or engaging in manipulation.

Credit/Bonus Expiry

Clients whose account balance is zero or negative, or whose available equity is less than the credit bonus, may continue trading exclusively in credit mode for a period of up to six (6) weeks. During this time, the account may remain in a state of negative net equity. If no deposits are made within the specified period, any remaining credit balance will be removed. TenTrade reserves the right to modify or revoke access to credit at its sole discretion and without prior notice.
